Employee Contracts & Agreements: When, Why, Where & How to Use Them. How to Legally Restrict Employees During & After Employment

How laws and court decisions can affect your company’s bottom line

Wed. July 6th 2016@ 8:45am-10:30am
IDES/Illinois workNet Offices  723 W. Algonquin Rd. Arlington Hts., IL

Recently there has been a great deal of concern regarding President Obama’s proposed changes. Many employers believe that they can protect their business with restrictive employment agreements. They want to maintain confidentiality & loyalty during & after employment. However, the law drastically changed in the last few years. Businesses can no longer unilaterally impose arbitrary or unreasonable conditions, especially after the employment relationship ends.

- Learn about how to create LEGAL post-employment restrictions against solicitation & competition.
- Understand what the courts tell us is legal & illegal in these agreements.
- Learn about how much money can be saved or lost by using these agreements.
- Learn about how to enforce these agreements in the courts & out of them.

Get answers to these questions and more at this informative complimentary workshop hosted by Business & Career Services, Inc. at the Illinois workNet Center and presented by Charles Krugel, Human Resources Attorney & counselor: Labor & Employment Law on Behalf of Management. He works with small to medium-sized companies in a variety of industries such as options & securities trading, technology, banking & manufacturing. In addition to providing these companies with traditional labor and employment law services, he represents companies desiring to institute preventive and proactive HR functions. Space is limited so pre-reserve early. Walk-ins will be accommodated on a space available basis only.
